Informal Consultations with Member States on the preparatory process for the Summit of the Future: Scope and Elements (13 June 2023)

ABOUT

On 13 June 2023, the Co-Facilitators of the Summit of the Future, H.E Ms. Antje Leendertse, Permanent Representative of the Federal Republic of Germany, and H.E Mr. Neville Melvin Gertze, Permanent Representative of Namibia, organized the second Informal Consultations with Member States to discuss the preparatory process for the Summit of the Future. They had shared a concept note highlighting proposed scope of the SOTF and structure for the Pact of the Future. This exchange allowed Member States to address pressing priorities for elements to be included in the Summit and The Pact for the Future.

The Co-facilitators gave a detailed overview of the proposed elements, indicating that outreach had been done through bilateral and group discussions, as well as written submissions that contributed to the proposal. Apart from the Member States, the co-facilitators for the 'Declaration on Future Generations', PR for Netherlands and Jamaica also made their statements at the meeting.

HEADLINES

- The Co-Facilitators proposed that the Pact for the Future should have a chapeau and 4 chapters on sustainable development; peace & security; digital cooperation; and transforming global governance, which are largely (but not completely) based on the UN75 Declaration (A/RES/75/1), the logic structure, proposals in the 'Our Common Agenda' document, and operative policy briefs introduced by the Secretary-General.
- The chapeau would frame the Pact, draw linkages to other processes (e.g. the 2030 Agenda) and reaffirm UN75 commitments
- The first cluster focuses on development and sustainable financing, aiming to advance the SDG agenda, progress beyond GDP, and reform the international financial architecture.
- The second cluster emphasizes peace and security, drawing inspiration from the New Agenda for Peace and addressing new threats.
- The third cluster centers around digital cooperation, including the negotiation of a global digital compact and addressing digital topics in other clusters.
- The fourth cluster is dedicated to transforming global governance, encompassing issues such as governance reforms, strengthening the response to global shocks, and peaceful and sustainable use of outer space.
- Cross-cutting issues (across each chapter) would be: Human Rights and international law; women and girls; and financing, while the overall theme of the summit is multilateral solutions for a better tomorrow.
- The co-facilitators propose a short decision on scope and elements to be adopted before the ministerial meeting, allowing for thorough negotiations on agreed-upon items and ensuring an ambitious outcome.

HIGHLIGHTS

Key Issues Raised	Views of Member States (MS)
Adoption of Co-Facilitators Proposals	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• MS say it is not clear why the proposal from the co-facilitators is to have a procedural decision, instead of a GA resolution.</li><li>• MS suggest moving the process towards a resolution that can be inter-governmentally negotiated and agreed upon.</li></ul>

Cross Cutting Issues	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Member states requested for further clarification on the selection of cross-cutting inputs.</li> <li>• They are calling for discussions and clarity on interrelatedness of issues and cross-cutting themes.</li> <li>• They raised concerns about duplication and the need to respect existing structures and frameworks.</li> </ul>
Timelines	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Most Member States called for an extension of the timeline to allow for in-depth consultations and substantive discussions, and time to understand the rationale behind the inclusion of certain elements.</li> <li>• Avoiding artificial timelines and rushing the process before the SDG Summit.</li> </ul>
Clusters (Chapters)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Member States were broadly supportive of the approach, although many countries referred to international law (e.g. China, Pakistan and Viet Nam (even proposing a separate cluster)),</li> </ul>
Ministerial Conference	The member states say the objective of the preparatory ministerial meeting should be to define a framework and identifying scope and elements for the SOTF, and it is important to use the momentum of the ministerial meeting and SDG summit for effective implementation of the 2030 agenda
Link between SDG Summit and the Summit of the Future	Member states agree that the proposal on the scope and elements of the SOTF should necessarily take into account the outcome of the SDG Summit as an important input.
Rebuilding Trust and Global Solidarity	Member States believe that rebuilding trust and global solidarity as proposed in the Chapeau is critical to ensure a SOTF that can help reinvigorate the multilateral system and strengthen global governance

KEY REMARKS

Cuba on behalf of G77 and China	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Limited time to provide a comprehensive contribution on the substance of the proposal.</li><li>• Emphasized on the need for open, transparent, and inclusive intergovernmental consultations.</li><li>• Group insists on the need to have a detailed negotiation process to determine the scope and elements of the summit of the future in order to prepare for negotiations.</li><li>• Request for a clear calendar to allow sufficient time for consultations and preparation. The calendar should also consider several ongoing negotiation processes some of them closely related to issues in the proposal particularly the negotiations on the draft political declaration of the SDG Summit.</li><li>• Emphasize that the link between the SDG Summit and the SOTF shall be clearly outlined in the text since the proposal on the scope and elements of should take into account the outcome of the SDG Summit as an important input</li><li>• Poverty eradication should be placed as a priority and overarching goal feature in any framework for our future discussions</li><li>• Explain the rationale and criteria behind the proposed structure of the text and to define the cross-cutting issues as well as the choices made to outline the Clusters and the different elements</li><li>• Clarify how the interconnections of elements within the Clusters would be addressed</li><li>• Commitment to engage constructively in the intergovernmental process.</li></ul>
European Union	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• The ministerial preparatory meeting in September is an important stepping stone in this process.</li><li>• The meeting should build upon the outcome of the SDG Summit and accelerate the SDG implementation.</li><li>• The 12 commitments from the UN-75 Declaration should serve as an anchor for the elements of the Pact for the Future.</li><li>• The Summit should focus on advancing the implementation of those commitments and filling gaps in global governance.</li><li>• Avoid duplication and overlapping of existing intergovernmental processes.</li><li>• The proposed structure of the Pact, with a chapeau and overarching clusters, is supported.</li><li>• The chapeau should frame the Pact while linking to other key processes and reaffirming commitments to existing agreements.</li><li>• Human rights should be mainstreamed throughout the Pact, including the rights of women and girls.</li><li>• The four proposed clusters have clear justifications, including digital cooperation and future-oriented reforms.</li><li>• Clear timelines for each policy element are needed.</li><li>• Advancing the social agenda and interlinkages between different summits should be emphasized.</li><li>• The transforming education element needs clarification on its specific aim.</li><li>• Visual clarification is needed to distinguish new proposals from the implementation of existing agreements.</li><li>• Modalities for the ministerial meeting need to be agreed upon, favoring an interactive meeting involving stakeholders and reporting back from the sdg summit.</li></ul>

Pakistan  on behalf of a group of like-minded countries which include Algeria, Brazil, China, Cuba, Egypt, Eritrea, Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Islamic Republic of Iran, Nigeria, Russian Federation, Sri Lanka, Syrian Arab Republic and my own delegation Pakistan	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The scope and elements of the Summit should be determined through intergovernmental consultations, taking into account the 2030 Agenda and the Addis Ababa Action Agenda.</li> <li>• The outcome document should address global challenges, boost implementation, strengthen global governance, and promote true multilateralism.</li> <li>• We suggest separate clusters for sustainable development, international peace and security, digital cooperation, human rights, youth, women and girls, and reinvigorating multilateralism and strengthening the UN system.</li> <li>• We disagree with selectively highlighting commitments from the UN 75 declaration as cross-cutting issues.</li> <li>• the scope and elements of the Summit should emerge through these intergovernmental consultations (rather than from the Co-Facilitators' paper as suggested in the concept note</li> <li>• We request clarity on the timeline for consensus, as more consultations and informal meetings will be needed to finalize the scope and elements of the outcome document.</li> </ul>
Netherlands and Jamaica : As co-facilitators for the Declaration on Future Generations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• They have been in communication with the co-facilitators and the co-facilitators of the Global Digital Compact and the SDG political declaration to ensure coordination among the processes in resolution 76/307 on the modalities of SOTF</li> <li>• Welcome the reference to the Declaration of future Generations as one of the elements in the current proposals, which are also in the UN Charter, Agenda 2030, Paris Climate Accord, and SDGs.</li> <li>• Desire for the Declaration on Future Generations to consolidate these commitments and propose implementation actions.</li> <li>• Need to incorporate the interests of future generations in policy and decision making at various levels.</li> <li>• Emphasis on investing in long-term thinking and planning for sustainable development.</li> <li>• Future Generations' should be mention in the Chapeu of the "Pact for the Future" and the importance of a broader scope beyond UN upgrading.</li> </ul>
Denmark  on behalf of the Nordic countries (Finland Iceland, Norway Sweden, Denmark)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Support for the concept note and draft decision on the scope and elements of SOTF</li> <li>• Endorsement of the proposed four clusters aligned with UN 75 commitments.</li> <li>• Emphasis on rebuilding trust, global solidarity, and strengthening global governance.</li> <li>• Welcome to draw on insights from the high-level Advisory board (HLAB) on effective multilateralism.</li> <li>• Three essential points for the scope of the summit and the Pact for the Future: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Upholding the purposes and principles of the UN Charter and international law, including the universal declaration of human rights.</li> <li>2. Mainstreaming gender equality across all clusters.</li> <li>3. Linking the SOTF to the SDG summit and ensuring sustainable financing for SDG implementation.</li> </ol> </li> <li>• Inclusion of civil society, youth, women, private sector, and vulnerable actors across all clusters.</li> <li>• Continued consultation with non-state stakeholders.</li> <li>• Ministerial meeting in September as a key step towards SOTF</li> <li>• Focus on achieving the SDGs and securing the future through global cooperation and effective multilateralism.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Looking forward to constructive engagement among member states for a favorable outcome of the ministerial meeting and the summit.</li> </ul>
Argentina	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Support the statement made by the G77 in China</li> <li>Request sufficient time and room for presenting own proposals</li> <li>Suggest the need to speed up the process while ensuring enough time before the Summit</li> <li>Inquire about the possibility of additional meetings beyond July 6th</li> <li>Begin working on the proposal of cross-cutting themes and specific issues</li> <li>Consider international law, UN Charter, human rights declaration, and declaration of women and children</li> <li>Seek information on criteria used for selecting themes and elements</li> <li>Express concern about the number and placement of proposed elements</li> <li>Request clarification to avoid duplication of effort</li> <li>Highlight that not everything affecting the multilateral system will be addressed in the summit</li> <li>Propose the SOTF as part of an ongoing process linked to the SDG summit</li> </ul>
Bangladesh	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Request for intergovernmental consultation in deciding the modalities and structure of the meeting.</li> <li>Emphasis on the timeline and the need for sufficient time for agreement on the elements of The Pact.</li> <li>Recognition of the proposed structure and elements of The Pact reflecting commitments made in the 75th Anniversary declaration.</li> <li>Desire for gender equality to be covered in The Pact while ensuring balanced coverage of all commitments from the 75th Anniversary.</li> <li>Appreciation for the efforts in elaborating the proposed elements in the Clusters but a request for further clarity on cross-cutting issues.</li> <li>Suggestion to include challenges of the future and recommendations to address them in The Pact.</li> <li>Highlighting the close link between The Pact for the Future and the Declaration for Future Generations and a request for thoughts on their interaction.</li> </ul>
Belgium on behalf of the co-chairs of the Group of Friends on Decent Work for Sustainable Development: Morocco and Belgium	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Urgent need for coordinated action and innovative solutions in the face of multiple crises in the global economy and labor markets.</li> <li>Reminder to not lose sight of the social dimensions and social justice in the SOTF policies.</li> <li>Prioritization of decent work as a driver of economic growth and social cohesion.</li> <li>Call for political will to reverse alarming trends and address unemployment, lack of social protection, and the informal economy.</li> <li>Emphasis on the complementarity of international financial support and domestic financing to achieve SDG8.</li> <li>Importance of reforming the current international financial system to address economic uncertainties, trade tensions, and promote equitable pay and decent work.</li> <li>Focus on comprehensive, integrated, and balanced approaches that align economic, environmental, and social aspects for peace and shared prosperity.</li> <li>Consideration of the impact of digitalization and technological advancement on the nature of work and the need to address inequalities through digital skills training, technology transfer, and social dialogue.</li> </ul>

Brazil	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The elements proposed require thorough consideration in the current stage.</li> <li>• Request for an extension of the timeline to allow for in-depth consultations and substantive discussions.</li> <li>• Proposal to have a resolution rather than a procedural document for an ambitious and action-oriented process.</li> <li>• The need for adequate time and discussions to understand the rationale behind the inclusion of certain elements.</li> <li>• Appreciation for concrete proposals but emphasizing the importance of considering previous consultations.</li> <li>• Emphasis on respecting the capacities of developing countries and allowing sufficient negotiation time.</li> <li>• The process should be transparent, trust-building, and reflect common denominators to be reached.</li> </ul>
Chile	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Agreement with the idea of structuring the document with a Chapeau and cross-cutting themes.</li> <li>• Clusters proposed as larger segregated thematic areas for considering commitments.</li> <li>• Recognition of the need for more than two meetings to anchor state commitments and strengthen trust.</li> <li>• Emphasizing the importance of realism and prioritizing urgent and long-term goals within the framework of Agenda 2030.</li> <li>• Advocacy for a broad approach to human rights and gender equality throughout the process.</li> <li>• Highlighting the significance of including the social development component in the summit.</li> <li>• Linking the Summit's outcomes with the SDGs and paving the way for a social summit in 2025.</li> </ul>
China	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The objective of the summit of the SOTF should be crystal clear, promoting joint actions to tackle common challenges and achieve shared objectives.</li> <li>• The scope of the summit should be focused on sustainable development, peace and security, global governance, and other prominent issues of member states' concern.</li> <li>• The outcome of the summit should be action-oriented, with a document consisting of a chapeau and several chapters.</li> <li>• The chapeau should reaffirm commitment to the UN Charter and incorporate guiding principles such as safeguarding the international system, practicing multilateralism, and putting people first.</li> </ul>
Colombia	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Welcoming the SOTF as an opportunity to rethink approaches to crises and emerging challenges.</li> <li>• Appreciation for additional details provided, particularly regarding the definition of clusters and distribution of elements.</li> <li>• Questions raised about the placement of Agenda 2030 within a group and its relation to other areas.</li> <li>• Concerns about the financial elements and their potential impact on negotiations in other forums.</li> <li>• Inquiring about the role of new facilitators and coordination with co-facilitators designated for other processes.</li> <li>• Requesting clarification on the inclusion of human security and governance, as well as the location of the Declaration on Future Generations.</li> <li>• Articulating the need for the environmental component and how it aligns with the work of relevant agencies.</li> </ul>
